

Building Workplace Culture with Seven Principles of Leadership[©]

presented by: Brett Hoogeveen, CSP, BetterCulture Co-founder

Your success depends on:

What you KNOW
What you SEE
What you DO

Your MINDSET

The Power of MINDSET: Mental models are how we understand the world. Not only do they shape what we think and how we understand but they shape the connections and opportunities that we see.

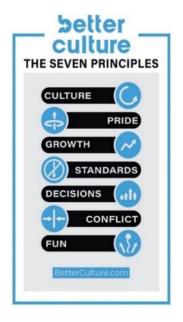

Farnam Street Blog

Citing mountains of research...just about any measure that improves the life and satisfaction of an employee will in turn improve their performance at work and buoy the organization as a whole.

- Forbes (2016)

Seven Principles of Leadership®

- 1. Leaders maintain a never-ending focus on mission, culture, and the pursuit of excellence.
- 2. Leaders create an environment where staff feel proud of their company and know that their company is proud of them.
- 3. Leaders work hard to help staff be successful at work and in life.
- 4. Leaders protect the right of good staff to work with good staff.
- 5. Leaders encourage and promote open discussion and analysis as a predicate to decision making.
- 6. Leaders deal effectively with conflict.
- 7. Leaders encourage others to enjoy their work.

"Between stimulus and response there is a space. In that space is our power to choose our response. In our response lies our growth and our freedom."

- Victor Frankl

"Between stimulus and response there is a space. In that space is our power to design our response. It is in this space, and in our response, that we practice the skill of leadership."

- Kim Hoogeveen, PhD, Founder of MindSet and BetterCulture

Principle 1. Leaders maintain a never-ending focus on mission, culture, and the pursuit of excellence.

The Leadership Loop:	Leadership
Envision the Culture: If we start on a journey wire the destination, it is unlikely that we will reach or	The
Coaching & Parenting: If you have someone wit demonstrates exceptional parenting skills, they a	, ,
Other MindSets:	Leadership Loop
	No Referees! Followship Multi-cultures Followship Just One More Step Satisfied Customers - Not Enough HR's Prime Directive Levels of Responsiveness Goal: Partnership Status Comparability Fixation

Principle 2. Leaders create an environment where staff feel proud of their company – and know that their company is proud of them.

Proud of What?		something about which employees know little
Mission, Vision, Values History Company Culture Exceptional Employees Recognition Practices How we Develop Employees	Products or Services Quality of Facilities Innovation Market Share Company Growth Rate Future Opportunities	or nothing. What should your teams be proud of?
We Promote from Within Commitment to Safety Executive Leadership Flat Structure of Leadership Work/Life Balance Equity / Diversity / Inclusion How we Give Back Environmental or Societal Impact	 Decision-Making Processes Financial Strength Intellectual Property (Patents, ©, etc.) Efficiencies Compensation Practices Unique Benefits and/or Perks Reputation Awards Received and Compliments (plus Figure are often delivered secon	shing for Compliments): The most powerful adhand.
	_	et that leads them to operate as a public relations antly promote great employees both inside and
Other MindSets:		Family Letters Proud of What? Gushers Celebrate Success Egos to the Whole Training Staff to Market Second Hand Compliments After the Honeymoon With Market Second Hand Compliments After the Honeymoon Just Do It
		Re-Recruiting

Principle 3: Leaders work hard to help staff be successful at work and in life.

Gaining Stars: Hire Them or Build Them: An investment in the growth and development of a Star employee will pay back to the company 5-times over.
Title & Power: The power that radiates from a title important and satisfying than having a positive imp	, ,
Linkage: One of the functions of leadership is to "li life) to a second employee who possesses the know
SEA of Possibilities: Why are they failing? Is it a S ki	ill, E ffort (including attitude), or A bility issue?
The Simple Solution Easy for You Build on Strengths Linkage Language of Achievers Walking Past Amazing Hire Them or Build Them Single Best Piece of Advice Adversity: Door Just Opened Mystery of the Average Everyone the Same-Bad Ideal It's Not About You Growing Scared Rabbits Magic Feedback Ratio Shallow Relationships Evals: 3 Orientations SEA of Possibilities SFMs	Other MindSets:

Principle 4. Leaders protect the right of good staff to work with good staff.

Don't Let Duds Slide: A great overall team outcomperformance.	e does not prove acceptable individual
DNA of Employee Error: All performance conversable learned by observing how employees respond to cook Are they N onchalant about it (bad sign)? Or are they (good sign)?	prrective feedback. Are they D efensive (bad sign)?
Handling Performance Conferences with Confideration should follow these 4 steps: 1) If the goal is to help them improve, make the comprehension") 2) Describe the "gap" (between your expectation 3) Listen (using SEA of Possibilities and DNA of 4) Make a plan	em feel safe ("anxiety is the foe of ons and the behavior you have observed)
Other MindSets:	No Fist in the Wall - A Problem Squeakin' Wheels Firing: A Simple Test Regret Their Hire Slow - Fire Fast! Subjectivity & Leadership What's Wrong w/ This Picture? Zombies & Cowards Soven Conference W Confidence Don't Let Duds Slide Caution: Maslow Has it Right Ethical Case for Termination 90/10 Rule Output Regret Regret The Art of Demotion Output Caution: Maslow Has it Right Ethical Case for Termination Output Regret Regret A Simple Test Regret Coulons Fire Fast! Subjectivity & Leadership Counting Counting Confidence Output Counting C

Principle 5. Leaders encourage and promote open discussion and analysis as a predicate to decision making.

Listen. Really Listen!: Learning to use 100% of your mental energy to ascertain a) what other people are thinking and b) how other people are feeling is an essential skill for coaching, communicating, and making effective decisions.

Why Do You Ask?: Effective leaders refrain from reflexively answering questions. They understand the power of asking people they lead 'why do you ask?' or 'what do you think?' before sharing their own perspectives.

Un-Paralyzing: When fear or panic gain a grip on our mental functioning, progress slows and the quality of decision-making deteriorates. Learn to un-paralyze yourself or your team by examining the following questions:

- 1) Assume the actions we are considering go as poorly as we fear. How could we recover?
- 2) What would be the consequences of doing nothing?
- 3) What results might we expect if the actions or initiatives we're considering go well?

360 Rule C-B-A Funnel Risk vs. Reward Argue Other Side Propelling Questions The Second Ring SWAYS TO LISTER: WIR, FIX, LEARN! Planning: Nuts to Soup Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First Fewer Choices
C-B-A Funnel Risk vs. Reward Argue Other Side Propelling Questions The Second Ring Ways to Listen: Win, Fix, Learn Planning: Nuts to Soup Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Risk vs. Reward Argue Other Side Propelling Questions The Second Ring Sways to Listen: Win, Fix, Learn! Planning: Nuts to Soup Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Planning: Nuts to Soup Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Planning: Nuts to Soup Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Always Invert Stuck in the Funnel Best Source First
Best Source First Fewer Choices
Fewer Choices
% Gold Collars
Un-Paralyzing
Sit Back Down Not Wrong - Just Better

Other MindSets:

Principle 6. Leaders deal effectively with conflict.

Can Conflict Be Good?: Excellence requires chan existence of certain types of conflict can be an inc
Stupid Idea – Let's Have Lunch: The challenge for conflict is welcome and personal conflict is not –	or leaders is to establish a culture where intellectual where ideas battle and people collaborate.
Other MindSets:	Tied by Own Rules
	Beware of Jumpers
	Dealing with Anger The Power of Mediation Collaboration - Be Cautious Not Worth Being Right
	Stupid Idea - Let's Have Lunch 0 Stomach Acid & Rational Thought 5 0 Can Conflict Be Good?
	Unspeakables of Psychological Inoculations Ratchet Up Tomorrow
	Ratchet Up Tomorrow Negotiation Tactics When the Tables Turn Find A Middle Gear Apologize

"Truth springs from argument among friends."

- David Hume

Principle 7. Leaders encourage others to enjoy their work.

Fearing Friendship: Friendship is an important and valued commodity to most humans. The old-line management thinking that supervisors should avoid friendships with those they supervise defies human nature. It is seldom a good idea to defy human nature.

Winners in Life: Some of the biggest winners in life are those who have the opportunity to work in an environment that provides four dazzling benefits:

- 1) a work setting that is optimistic and uplifting,
- 2) colleagues they enjoy, trust, and respect,
- 3) a genuine opportunity to grow as an employee and a person, and
- 4) an opportunity to feel the pride that comes from being part of something truly special a GREAT company.

Outstanding leaders recognize the most rewarding use of power is the creation and maintenance of a culture that embodies these benefits for employees – and the passionate loyalty, and great business success, it engenders.

"Laughter and good humor are the canaries in the mine of commerce – when the laughter dies, it is an early warning that life is ebbing from the enterprise."

- Paul Hawken

"Pleasure in the job puts perfection in the work."

